Master the Holiday Season

Unwrapping 2018 Holiday Trends

$50B

Was spent by Canadians over the month of December.¹

Canadians are redefining Holiday shopping

Shoppers think ahead about their gifts. Most consumers start researching gifts long before they start shopping.

- More than a third (39%) of Holiday shopping has been completed before the week of Black Friday/Cyber Monday.²

Seamless online to offline experiences will drive your Holiday success

On average, Canadian Holiday shoppers spent 43% of their time shopping online and 57% offline.⁴

1 in 3 shoppers who used Search before going to the store said they searched for something in-store related — such as items in stock near them, store hours, wait times and contact information.⁵

Shoppers are on mobile, and ready to buy

52% of Holiday consumers shopped via a mobile app, and one third of those say they downloaded new apps over the 2018 Holiday season.⁶

2019 Insight

In 2019, Black Friday and Cyber Monday will fall a week later than in previous years, shortening the 'Cyber Stretch' between American Thanksgiving and Christmas by a full 6 days! It's crucial to think through how this may impact your overall business and budget allocation. Lay the groundwork early to ensure you're capturing the consumer demand.

Be a brand that consumers can count on: people choose brands that are helpful every step of the way.

46% of Canadian shoppers were open to shopping with new retailers last Holiday season.⁷

Over 90% of Canadians say YouTube helps them discover new products or brands.⁸

Be Helpful

Consumers are using digital to decide where to shop and are leaning into mobile, especially for spontaneous purchases. Stand out from the competition by offering a frictionless experience.

Be There

When consumers don't know where to find what they need, they turn to search. Bridge your online and offline strategy to drive foot traffic.

In any given 2 days over the Holidays, 79% of Canadians are shopping (including browsing researching and buying).¹⁰

Over half (51%) of Holiday shoppers agree they research before they buy to ensure they're making the best choice possible.¹¹

Most shopping occasions (60%) during the Holiday period start online while the other 40% start in a store.¹²

Be Near & Now

Advertise ahead of peak holiday moments to capture early consumer demand and maximize profitability. Help shoppers find your stores and products in their moment of need.

Over half (54%) of those who started their shopping journey online also visited a store and 59% of shoppers either bought or were planning to buy in-store.¹³

1-in-5 (21%) Holiday shoppers say they leave most of their shopping to the last minute.¹⁴

1-in-3 shoppers are still shopping after the shipping cutoff.¹⁵

Be Personalized

Personalize the holiday shopping experience by customizing your creative, offering promotions based on past purchases, and creating robust customer lists.

Only 30% of Canadian shoppers said the retailers they most recently shopped with did a good job of personalizing their shopping experience.¹⁶

76% of smartphone users are more likely to purchase from companies whose mobile sites or apps offer them discounts/promotions on items they may be interested in based on previous purchases.¹⁷
